REGIONALIZATION

There are currently eight established Planetary Health Regional Hubs:
- Caribbean (Join on Hylo | Summary Page)
- East Africa (Join on Hylo | Summary Page)
- East Asia (Join on Hylo) (Currently under development as the Japan Hub expands to focus on all of East Asia)
- Europe (Join on Hylo | Summary Page)
- Latin America (Join on Hylo | Summary Page)
- Oceania (Join on Hylo | Summary Page)
- South & Southeast Asia (Join on Hylo | Summary Page)
- West Africa (Join on Hylo | Summary Page)

The list of countries within each region has been modified from the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) regions in partnership with existing hubs and PHA Members. Please join as many regions as you identify with; for suggestions on which Hub to join by country, please view this document.

In addition to these established Regional Hubs, PHA has created member communities within Hylo for other regions that are not yet represented by formally organized Regional Hubs to still allow for conversations within those Regions. We hope in the future to have established Planetary Health Regional Hubs across every region. The development of future Regional Hubs will be based on the interest of organizations and individuals within the respective regions.

- Central & West Asia (Join on Hylo)
- Middle East & North Africa (Join on Hylo)
- North America (Join on Hylo) (Currently under development, to be involved please contact hannah.turley@jhu.edu)

WHICH HUB DO I JOIN?

PHA generally refers to the regionalization methodology presented by the United Nations Statistics Division; however, we encourage all Regional Hub participants to self-identify into a Regional Hub at their own discretion of geographic and cultural relevance. Planetary Health has no borders; the regionalization of countries is primarily for programmatic convenience and does not imply any opinion whatsoever on the part of PHA concerning the legal status or legitimacy of any country, territory, city, community, or area, or concerning the borders, boundaries, governance, or sovereignty of such regions. We respect and value the self-identification of all individuals and organizations. As such, those who are deeply involved in multiple regions may join more than one hub.
